Some Baseball Talk

By HALF NELSON.

Judging from the last two games in the sixth inning yesterday. With played in Richmond and Lynchburg are pretty evenly matched. Two tie fames in one week is not usual about these parts, and the novelty is enjoyed. The Colts are putting up very nearly the same game they would put un if they were in the Eastern League and Lynchburg is right neck and neck with them. If another tie is pulled off this afternoon there is no telling what will happen.

The same game they would put up to the same game they would put in if they were in the Eastern League and Lynchburg ja right neck and neck with them. If another tie is pulled off the sixth inning yesterday. With in the sixth inning yesterday. With seem that killed the best chance for salting down the game. Wallace was trying off as clean as a whistle. It was useless for him to run either way, and the double-play came.

Shaw also had a bunch of hard luck when he opened the ball with a double bagger and they died on years and they are are also are Roanoke and Danville both won out yesterday, which leaves all teams in relatively the same positions as before. Roanoke has shortened Danville's lead considerably in the last month, and if a winning streak can be developed there is no telling how the matter will ond. But then Danville is still playing ball.

wiltse to-day, while New York was making five off Burns and Beebe, but the visitors had all they could do to capture the game by a score of 5 to 4. Clarke's single in the ninth sent in the winning run. The score:

The three men who were given bases on balls yesterday all scored. Salve gave two and Brandon one. In each case hits came behind the free passes, which did the real work.

Rowe and Morrissey umpired a rat-tling good game, and the only times it even looked like a kick they shut out the talk before it was fairly start-ed. Once was when Titman was called out on the third strike, and Titman yelled, and the other when Rowe re-fused to give Dick Smith a put-out on hird. And Smith looked as if he might start something, too.

Baker used his head in the sixth inning, when he started for home on Wallace's hit. Howdell hesitated for half an instant in throwing the ball, which gave Wallace time to make first,

Did anybody fail to note the little preliminary treat given the fans yesterday? With his usual gravity, combined with wonderful efficiency the Judge handled the ball in such form as to bring forth well-merited cheers from the grandstand. All of which were received with the usual gravity and decorum. Also the Judge was some flessed up with store-bought clothes.

No. Name of Owner.

Shaw also had a bunch of hard luck when he opened the ball with a double bagger and then died on second base.

There will be a double-header this afternoon, the first game beginning at a quarter to 3 o'clock. Verbout and Revelle will pitch for Richmond.

Bob Pender was called home yester Bob Pender was called home yester-day by a death in his family, and will probably be away from the game until Monday. In the meantime the umpiring done by the players seems to have been very efficient.
